Download list

Registered with the federal Conciliation and Arbitration Court in 1921, the Municipal Officers' Association of Australia (MOA) grew from a small and politically conservative union into a large and more vocal organisation. In 1991 it amalgamated with the Australian Transport Officers' Federation (ATOF) and the Technical Service Guild of Australia (TSG) to form the Australian Municipal Transport Energy Water Ports Community & Information Services Union. Later amalgamations with the Australian Social Welfare Union in 1992 and the Australian Shipping & Travel Officers' Association prompted the union to reregister on both occasions but under the same name. Late in 1993 the union eventually changed its name to the Australian Municipal Administrative Clerical & Services Union and remains as such despite a further amalgamation with the Totalisator Employees' Association of Victoria in 1994.

Jul 1991: Municipal Officers' Association (MOA), the Australian Transport Officers' Federation (ATOF) and the Technical Services Guild of Australia (TSG) amalgamated to form the Australian Municipal, Transport, Energy, Water, Ports, Community & Information Services Union (trading as the Australian Services Union or ASU).

Jul 1992: the Australian Social Welfare Union joined the ASU.

Oct 1992: West Australian Railway Officers Association joined the ASU.

Nov 1992: the Australian Shipping & Travel Officers Association joined the ASU.

The Australian Municipal, Administrative, Clerical and Services Union, trading as the Australian Services Union (ASU), was formed on July 1, 1993, following a vote by members of the Federated Clerks' Union (FCU), the Federated Municipal and Shire Council Employees Union (MEU), and the Australian Municipal, Transport, Energy, Water, Ports, Community & Information Services Union (ASU) to amalgamate.

The 'new' ASU had the FCU as host Union and continued to use the trading name of the Australian Services Union.
